TRIGGERS AND BARRIERS TO FINANCIAL STABILITY

The issues of financial stability of financial markets and banks, which dominate the activities of regulators today, are largely related to compliance with the International Standards of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision. Neutralization of risk allows you to ensure a controlled level of losses that can be absorbed by capital without compromising the financial stability of credit institutions. The flip side of this positive phenomenon for a particular bank is a slowdown in its business activity. It is this problem that does not find a solution today. The author made an attempt to identify the main barriers to financial stability that have formed in the Russian banking system. The search for ways to overcome such obstacles partly lies in the plane of coordination of the targets of monetary, macro- and micro-potential policies that ensure financial stability.

Keywords: banking system, financial market, financial stability, competition, market monopolization, institutional and geographical asymmetry.
